CUBS GAIN LEAD OVER WHITE SOX

Humphries Blanks Callahan's Men With Four Hits While Teammates Pile Up Commanding Score.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 .- Bert Humphries' brilliant pitching and a terrific onslaught on Jim Scott's offerings in the sixth and seventh innings, gave the Chicago Nationals the lead in the city championship series, the third game going to the Cubs 3 to 0. The American leaguers were helpless before Humphries' baffling curves, and made only four hits, one of which was entirely free from the stigma of "scratch." Only two of the Americans got as far as second base and not one beyond that point, while the Cub pitcher had seven strikeouts to his credit, Bodie and Schalk twice being victims.

Sox Errors Are Conspicuous, Poor fielding helped in the undoing of Scott and the general route of the White Sox. A wild throw by Collins was sandwiched among hits by Evers, Schulte, Saier and Good in the sixth and the combination netted three runs. With one out in the seventh, another series of hits with errors by Bodie and Weaver added five to the total. There was one out when Leach began the attack in the seventh with a double into the crowd. Evers walked and Schulte slammed a single to right, Leach scoring. Zimmerman beat out a bunt, scoring Evers, and after Saier had struck out, Good shot a safe drive to right Schulte counted on the hit, Bodie made a mess of retrieving the ball and Zimmerman sped over the plate, Good going to second. Weaver fumbled Bridwell's grounder and Good
